

Following your Dharma

Gathering Gods, King Dasharata and Rama the king's son All to destroy Ravana the evil one

To discuss with God Vishnu, the “most powerful” in a word
The one to go by Sansara and come back to the upper world

And now, the gods have known
How to fight Ravana, the one planning to achieve the throne!

Queen Kaikeyi, the mother of Lakshmana, Bharata and Rama, the offsprings
Telling her husband, King Dashratha, to make Bharata the next king

The queen tells her husband to exile Rama
But, still Rama does not fight nor get mad and just follows his own Dharma

That brave Rama, following his Dharma Thinking that following his Dharma is gathering more of the good Kharma

Rama refuses to come back from the forest, even after his father dies Sita, the wife of Rama thinks that the those that Rama had said are all lies

When Rama leaves, he tells Lakshmana, his second brother “ Take care of my Sita and give her to no other.”

After Rama had left there was a voice heard, Sita said that it was Rama's voice, not just a bird

Sita tells Lakshmana to leave her, but, Lakshmana refuses and just laughs at that

When Sita asks with all the emotion she has, Lakshmana agrees to leave and that's all for that chat

Lakshmana draws a circle around Sita and the place staying in
He tells her never to step out of the circle including

When Lakshmana leaves, Ravana comes and kidnaps Sita with

Suddenly Sita starts to scream, and it's for Rama to go and rescue her
